ATOM BOMB WIPES OUT OVER HALF OF JAP CITY

25 Superforts Drop 1,500 Tons of Demolition Bombs in "Pittsburgh of Nippon"

29s, Escorted by 140 Thunderbolt Fighters, Attack Yawala, Recently Warned It Was Marked for Destruction; Carrier Planes of Pacific Fleet Raid Wake Island and Batter Jap Shipping Off China

By MURLIN SPENCER

GUAM, Wednesday, Aug. 8 (AP)—Four and one-tenth square miles of the city of Hiroshima were wiped out by the devastating atomic bomb dropped Monday by a B-29, the United States Army Strategic Air Force headquarters reported today.

Five major industrial targets were wiped out in the city of six and nine tenths square miles.

"Additional damage was shown outside the completely destroyed area," said a communique based on reconnaissance photographs made over the city of 343,000 on the morning of the day the bomb was dropped by a Superfort which felt the concussion while ten miles away.

The men who participated could give no estimate of the damage other than it "must have been extensive."

But they did relate that the lone bomb struck squarely in the center of the industrial-military city of 343,000 on Southern Honshu in the Japanese mainland Aug. 6 (Pacific time) with a flash and concussion that brought an exclamation of "My God" from a battle-hardened Superfort crew ten miles away.

Crewmen who carried the awful new bomb which is declared to have an explosive power the equivalent of bombs that 2,000 Superforts would have had to carry previously although they were far away, felt the concussion like a close explosion of anti-aircraft fire.

"It was 9:15 (a. m.) when we dropped our bomb and we turned the plane broadside to get the best view," said Capt. Parsons. "Then we made as much distance from the ball of fire as we could."

"We were at least ten miles away and there was a visual impact even though every man wore colored glasses for protection. We had braced ourselves when the bomb was gone for the shock and Tibbets said 'Close flak' and it was just like that—a close burst of anti-aircraft fire."

"The crew said 'My God' and couldn't believe what had happened. A mountain of smoke was going up in a mushroom with the stem coming down at the top as white smoke but up to 1,000 feet from the ground there was swirling, boiling dust. Soon afterward small fires sprang up on the edge of town but the town was entirely obscured. We stayed around two or three minutes and by that time the smoke had risen to 40,000 feet. As we watched the top of the white cloud broke off and another soon formed."

Spatz was obviously highly elated at the new bombing weapon. He said if he had had it in Europe, "It would have shortened the war six to eight months," Maj. Gen. Curtis Lemay said that if this bomb had been available there would have been "no need to have had D-day in Europe."

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 7 (AP)—American military authorities said today they have freed more than 15,000 inmates of German prisons after a review of their cases disclosed they were unjustly sentenced.

Atomic Bomb Blast Is Outclassed By Earthquake, Seismologist Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—It is asilly to compare an atomic bomb explosion and an earthquake as it is to stack an ant up against an elephant.

That's the opinion of the Rev. Frederick W. Schuch, S. J., director of the seismograph observatory at Georgetown University. He says that although man certainly has become a destructive little fellow, nature still is champ. No question of it.

Father Schuch feels pretty strongly about this, he told an interviewer.

"Yesterday certainly was a trying day. The phone kept ringing with people wanting to know whether the atomic bomb registered on our seismograph."

And the answer? Neither the practice bombing in New Mexico nor the attack on Japan caused the slightest ruffle on the earthquake-recording seismograph.

The Georgetown seismograph has been on the job twenty-four hours a day since 1922 and as far as Father Schuch can recall only twice have man-made commotions been recorded—once when piles were driven for a new building on the campus and once when piles were sunk in the nearby Potomac.

In the northeastern states, especially in the New England area, seismographs are used for local disturbances so they could chart previously unrecorded minor New England earthquakes.

Pétain Witnesses Declare Britain, Vichy Made Pact

Allegations Are Made in Face of Official British Denials

By RELMAN MORIN

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Two witnesses, testifying in defense of Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain, insisted today that Britain concluded a secret agreement with the Vichy government after the fall of France. One named Lord Halifax, present British ambassador to Washington, as a principal intermediary.

The allegations were made in the face of official British denials of such a secret negotiation.

The agreement, the witnesses asserted, related mainly to obtaining French assurances that the French fleet would not be used against the British, that colonial bases and areas would be denied the Germans and that Vichy would refrain from attempting to regain overseas areas then under control of Gen. De Gaulle's Free French forces.

In return, both witnesses testified, Britain consented to relax her blockade and permit French shipping to pass through the Straits of Gibraltar and bound herself to furnish certain needed foodstuffs to France.

The witnesses were Jacques Chevallier, former Vichy secretary general of education, and Adm. Jean Fernet, former secretary general of the presidency council.

The defense was counting heavily on their testimony to support the contention that Pétain, far from collaborating with the Germans and plotting against the security of France, was working behind the scenes with the Allies.

Fernet testified that Prof. Louis Rougier (now in New York) approached Pétain on July 22, 1940, with an offer to attempt to open negotiations with Britain.

Rougier was said to have conferred with Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Minister of War Anthony Eden and to have left with Pétain a three-point plan which was to serve as the basis of a "modus vivendi" between the two governments.

Chevallier testified that he participated more directly in talks between Britain and Vichy. His testimony regarding the terms of the alleged accord agreed substantiated with what Fernet had told the court.

The agreement was concluded and its terms actually went into effect, both witnesses claimed.

Chinese Tighten Grip on 50-Mile Coastal Stretch

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Aug. 7 (AP)—Chinese troops have captured the South China "invasion coast" port of Yeungking west of Hong Kong and are smashing on toward a strategic Japanese bastion only eighty miles from the teeming industrial city of Canton, the Chinese high command reported today.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces, tightening their grip on a fifty-mile stretch of the invasion-vulnerable coastline by the occupation of the port, seized Yeungking after a day of bitter street fighting, a communique said.

Yeungking lies 121 miles southwest of Canton, next to Hong Kong, the most important Japanese-held city in Southern China.

The Japanese were said to be in flight toward Yanning, which is eighty-eight miles southwest of Canton and guards a cluster of industrial towns around Toisan and Kungyifow, fifty-seven miles southwest of Canton.

Some 135 miles northwest of Yeungking, the high command reported another battle raging along the south bank of the Si (West) river.

The report indicated that Tengkun, which the Chinese also captured some weeks ago, had been lost to the enemy and that the Chinese again were pushing eastward in an effort to reach the Si river port of Tsungu (Wuchow), 115 miles west of Canton.

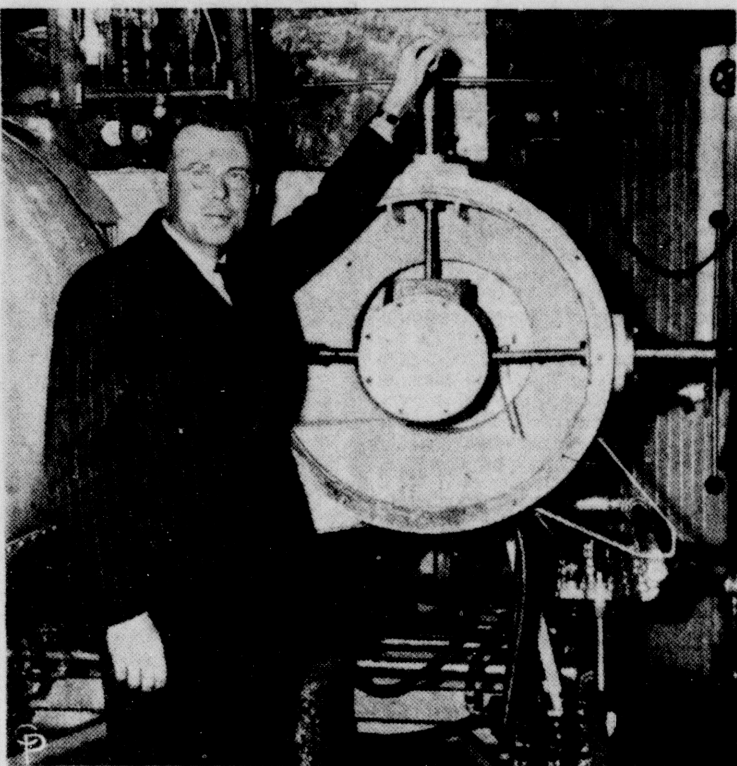

WPB Sees Larger Supply Of Inexpensive Shoes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A larger supply of inexpensive shoes was forecast today by the War Production Board lifted controls on the number of pairs that may be produced.

The revocation covers rationed and non-rationed lines of adults', children's and infants' shoes which sell at retail at an estimated range of $1.25 to $6.25.

WPB predicted improved supply in about sixty days, but said total production still would be below pre-war volume. Both leather and non-leather, work and dress types are covered by the order.

AMERICAN PIONEER OF ATOM SMASHING

STANDING BESIDE THE CYCLOTRON he developed is Dr. Ernest Orlando Lawrence, famed American scientist, who has been a pioneer atom smasher. Use of the cyclotron is believed to be at the bottom of the development of the atomic bomb that has just been revealed by President Truman. Dr. Lawrence is the director of the Radiation Laboratory at the University of California. He comes from Canton, S. D. He may have been a member of the group of American and British scientists who developed the atomic bomb, the most terrible weapon in history.

Paper Discovered UNRRA Will Ask By British "Lost" Nations To Boost War for Germany Appropriations

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 7 (AP)—The accidental discovery of a secret German document enabled the British to evacuate 330,000 men from the trapped beaches of Dunkerque, the United States Army disclosed today.

"This was the paper that lost the war for Germany because it opened an escape hatch through which the core of the British regular army slipped through and gave Britain at least the semblance of enough strength to hold on until Russia and the United States were drawn to her aid," an intelligence officer of G-2 said.

At an hour when the French were being slaughtered and the British were making a desperate effort to evacuate their helpless divisions, a member of the German general staff on a reconnaissance mission pushed too far ahead of his own lines and was fired upon by a British patrol.

The Nazi officer and his men took off across the fields but their vehicles were set afire and was captured by the patrol. In it was a copy of a surprise attack in the Calais region aimed at cutting off the British escape.

The document fell into the hands of the commander of a small British force screening the Dunkerque beaches only a few hours before the attack was scheduled to begin.

It foretold a hook movement by a German force moving up from the sea, striking in the rear of the Dunkerque army.

Gambling everything on bold strategy, the British commander concentrated every man he had at the point of attack.

The Germans attacked on schedule but their initial thrust was stopped cold by the British covering force held for three days while the frantic skippers of the fiercest assortment of junks, garbage scows, barges, yachts and other small craft ever assembled, emptied the beaches of 330,000 British and French troops.

UNRRA's financial crisis has snowballed as a result of ever-increasing demands that far exceed official expectations.

China alone has requested aid equivalent to $900,000,000. Russia $700,000,000 and a big request is likely forthcoming from Poland.

UNRRA representatives say much of the difficulty is due to the fact that the original program was laid out before the liberation of the countries now in need of most aid, and no accurate measure of the devastation in those areas was possible. For the same reason administrative costs have been greater than anticipated.

The prospect was grimly put today by Britain's new foreign secretary, Ernest Bevin, when he warned that forty-four nations parley that liberated Europe must be aided in the next twelve months or be plagued with "misery, disease, anarchy and bloodshed."

UNRRA's biggest prospective slice of cash is coming from the United States, which has pledged $1,350,000,000, or roughly seventy-two per cent of UNRRA's total appropriation, but so far has made available only $800,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A captured German document made public today lists Nazi war production as having held out "amazingly well" to the hour of defeat, despite massive Allied bombings.

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, beset by a financial crisis, will demand increased contributions of funds and supplies from nations able to pay, it was made clear at today's opening session of the organization's third international convention.

Facing a tough winter's work in ravaged Europe and the Far East, the UNRRA program through 1946 will require new contributions from the participating nations of fifteen $1,500,000,000 and $2,300,000,000, a responsible American source said.

Details of the financial program will be disclosed tomorrow, when Director-General Herbert H. Lehman presents his report.

Captured Document Reveals Nazi War Production Held Out "Amazingly Well"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A captured German document made public today lists Nazi war production as having held out "amazingly well" to the hour of defeat, despite massive Allied bombings.

Summarizing the captured production report, the Senate subcommittee on war mobilization said that Nazi industry never lost its "tremendous recuperative power."

The committee, headed by Sen. Kilgore (D-W.Va.), has been urging de-industrialization of Germany as a move to insure future peace.

President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Premier Stalin, at the conclusion of their recent Potsdam meeting, declared their intent to control German industry and all her economic and international finances "with the aim of preventing Germany from developing a war potential."

The German report was obtained by the committee through Maj. Gen. John H. Hildinger, director of the Civil Affairs division of the War Department. It showed that the Nazis built three times as many armored vehicles in 1944 as in 1942, constructed three times as many fighter bombers and eight times as many night fighting planes.

The German report said that while the chemical industry had been the main objective of Allied air attacks, the Nazis "succeeded to some extent in continuing the production of synthetic oil."

It conceded, however, that "production in other chemical fields has likewise been badly affected by air raids."

At the same time, the Commerce department said German chemical superiority is a "myth."

Even before the First World War, the United States was the world's largest producer of chemical products, the department said, although the American public didn't know it.

Truman Returns From Big Three Berlin Meeting

President Lands at Newport News; Cabinet Will Meet Friday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Truman returned to the White House tonight from the Big Three conference at Potsdam. His special train reached here at 10:50 p. m. Eastern War Time.

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 7 (AP)—President Truman returned to his home shores today, back from the historic Big Three meeting at Berlin.

A cabinet meeting was called for Friday. He will be back at his White House desk tomorrow.

His return to America came amid talk in Washington and London of possibly another ultimatum for the Japanese to surrender, now that they have seen what the new atomic bomb can do to their homeland.

The president plans to delay any news conferences until he has made a radio address to the nation on the agreements reached in Germany with British and Russian leaders.

Mr. Truman disembarked from the cruiser Augusta here today at 4:54 p. m. (EWT). He and his party immediately boarded a waiting train and headed for Washington.

Tanned by sun and wind, he looked fit as he said good-bye to Capt. James H. Forke, the Augusta's skipper, and other officers and thanked them for two smooth Atlantic crossings.

Concludes 10,000-Mile Trip

The chief executive brought back agreements signed with Britain and Russia intended to keep the peace of Europe and to complete plans with the British for the knockout assault upon Japan.

A key to the British-American strategy is the successful use of the new atomic bomb, first announced to the world yesterday by Mr. Truman.

The president was concluding to take a 10,000-mile journey by land, sea and air in the cause of enduring peace. He left Washington one month ago.

He listed development of the new bomb, along with the United Nations Charter and the Big Three agreements at Berlin among potent assets by which peaceable nations can keep down future aggression and provide unprecedented benefits for the welfare of mankind.

The chief executive, talking with reporters, viewed successful use of the atomic bomb on Japan as raising hope that this country and its allies have in their hands "the most powerful weapon for war and peace ever devised."

Potsdam Report Nearly Complete

Besides foreshadowing early victory over Japan, he said, "It means a wonderful peacetime release of energy if its powers can be harnessed for commercial use." Industrial studies, scientists have told him, indicate it may be "the greatest discovery of any age for the benefit of the people."

The report Mr. Truman will make to the American people on the Potsdam agreements is substantially complete.

But because of the accumulation of papers waiting on his desk, the president plans to keep his calling list to a minimum this week.

Mr. Truman conferred today with James P. Byrnes, secretary of state; Adm. William D. Leahy, his chief of staff, and Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, White House counsel.

Grain Elevator Blast Kills 13

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 7 (AP)—Recovery of three additional bodies brought to thirteen the total known dead in the explosion that wrecked a 2,000,000-bushel grain storage elevator today, and caused officials to revise downward their previous estimate of at least nineteen killed.

It was believed that most, if not all, of the workers trapped in elevator No. 5 of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Ltd., had been accounted for. Earlier, in the confusion of the blast, fire and rescue attempts, officials said the death toll might reach twenty to thirty-five.

The identified dead, all from Port Arthur, were Cecil Ross Insley, 46; Vernon Rogers, 20; Phillip Valley, 34; William Henry Hodgkinson, 45; George Paquette and Robert Elder (ages unavailable). Seven remained to be identified.

A score of seriously injured workers were taken to the hospital. Hours after the blast many persons still were missing, including a number of soldiers on leave to work in elevators.

Cause of the blast, which rocked the twin cities of Port Arthur and Port William shortly after 10 a. m. (Eastern War Time) was not immediately determined, but it may have resulted from an accumulation of grain dust. The elevator was located about three miles from the center of Port Arthur.

Five Industrial Targets Are Erased in Hiroshima By B-29-Dropped Weapon

Four and One Tenth Square Miles of City of 343,000 Devastated; B-29 Crew Ten Miles Away Felt Concussion and Visual Impact despite Colored Glasses; Explosion Created Boiling Dust

Dale for Dropping First Atomic Bomb on Enemy Was Set "Over Year Ago"

Career Diplomat Receives Place In Jap Emperor's Privy Council

By JAMES D. WHITE

Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7 (AP)—A tiny, 71-year-old career diplomat has been slipped quietly into the emperor's privy council in Tokyo.

This probably has nothing to do with atomic bombs, but it just happens that Yoshizawa is Japan's most practiced disssembler and probably the one most trusted by the throne.

It also happens that in the past he has conducted with varying success some very extensive negotiations with Britain, China, the U. S. A. France and the Netherlands—all of whom are on the winning end of Japan's war. He also has had some success with Soviet Russia, which,

Japan fears, might come into the war against her.

Since Pearl Harbor, this widely experienced little man has been mentioned by authorities on Japan as a possible postwar premier for a country which must learn all over again how to get along with other people.

He has the mark of what passes in Japan for a liberal conservative. He married the daughter of Count Inukai, who used to head the old Seiyukai political party before the warlords abolished it.

He started as a secretary in the day when Japan was a naval ally of Great Britain. He rose steadily to

Police Hold Two Frostburg Men After Accident

Officers Say Driver and Owner of Car Fleed from Scene

Two Frostburg men were arrested by state police last night in connection with a Frostburg accident in which three automobiles parked on Main street were damaged about 7 p. m.

The owner of the automobile that struck the parked cars as well as the driver of the machine fled from the scene on foot, officers said.

An hour and a half after the accident a man listed by police as Earl Patterson, Frostburg, was arrested, and officers said he is the owner of the car that struck the parked car. The second man, docketed as Donald Elsler, Frostburg, was arrested about 9:30 p. m. and is held for questioning in the case.

Patterson is accused of permitting an unauthorized person to operate his automobile and will be given a hearing Thursday in Frostburg, according to Sgt. Harold C. Carl, who made the arrests. He was assisted by Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch.

Sgt. Carl said the driver of Patterson's car turned right on Main street from Broadway and struck the three parked automobiles. Patterson's car was damaged, the officer added, and the two occupants fled on foot.

Police said the owners of damaged parked cars are Mrs. Edna E. Robinson, Albert Stoops and Raymond Stonebraker, all of Frostburg. No one was injured.

Top-Ranking Nazis Will Be Moved to Nuernberg

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Top ranking Nazis held as prisoners of war will be moved shortly from Mondorf, Luxembourg, to the Nuernberg jail, where they will be held for the approaching major war crimes trial, it was disclosed today.

They will lose their status as war prisoners and be held without bail as civil criminals.

Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief United States war crimes prosecutor, declined to divulge the identity of the group to be removed, pending their arrival in Nuernberg.

He would not say whether they were being transferred as a security precaution against any desperate attempt by fanatical Nazis to deliver their erstwhile leaders. They will be moved in small groups under guard.

become minister in Peking during the early twenties when Japan was lending money to Chinese warlords with the idea of getting hold of China that way.

While in Peking he was credited with arranging with Soviet Minister Leo Karkhanov for the establishment of diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

In 1932 his job as empire trouble-shooter got tough. As ambassador to France he was also Japan's chief delegate at the League of Nations when the league condemned Japan's grab in Manchuria. Yoshizawa walked out with his delegation. The league and the world, he claimed, did not understand Japan's true intentions.

He went home something of a hero for thus defending his country in a losing battle, was made a member of the House of Peers, and became foreign minister under Premier Count Inukai, his father-in-law.

Later, when it became plain that Japan's chief obstacle to conquest was American opposition, he was made director of the foreign office's American bureau. Japan thereafter was depicted in tourist literature as a land of cherry blossoms and peaceful geisha girls.

In 1940 he headed a special mission to the East Indies to pry more oil out of the Dutch. Vice-Governor Hubertus Van Mook argued, stalled, and eventually turned him down. He emphasized his refusal by picking the tallest Dutchman he could find in the colonies to serve as "guard of honor" to Yoshizawa, who is scarcely more than five feet tall.

Next year Yoshizawa was given the job of special ambassador to Indo-China, which the Japanese were then in process of taking over by mere bullying and intrigue rather than the usual method of out-right invasion. Yoshizawa retired from this position last fall, when the military really took over supreme authority in the luckless French colony.

He retired from the diplomatic service in January this year, but this spring was appointed adviser to Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo in the new Suzuki cabinet. The Japanese press said that in view of his wide experience both at home and abroad Yoshizawa would be a "source of strength" to foreign Minister Togo, who had spent most of his time in Russia.

Yoshizawa's new place on the privy council may mean no more than customary honor for one of the empire's most experienced negotiators.

But on the other hand, his government may have bigger things in mind for him.

Incidentally, Father Sohon says that earthquakes, for all their power, are outclassed by hurricanes. "Now they are something," he warns, "that you don't want to fool around with."

Relaxation of Draft Policy Is Unlikely

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Selective Service held out little hope today for any relaxation in its draft policy toward able-bodied men between 18 and 30.

Eleven thousand different cotton items ranging from gun camouflage to handkerchiefs, are bought by the United States Army.

Current draft calls of approximately 100,000 monthly, the report explained, cannot be met fully with youths becoming 18 years of age.

To the Employees of the WEST VIRGINIA PULP and PAPER COMPANY

As you well know, there were stoppages of work at the company's plants at Luke, Maryland, Williamsburg, Pa., and Covington, Va., from July 30 to August 5. The company suffered, the employees suffered, and the war effort suffered. Nobody gained anything unless the lesson was learned that such stoppages benefit no one.

It is a War Labor Board policy to require strikers to return to work before considering their demands. The company followed this policy, because it is a sound policy and refused to bargain while the strike was on. The strikers returned to work without the company's getting anything or promising anything except to resume negotiations which the union had broken off.

We hope this unpleasant event will leave no bad feelings with anyone and that, as negotiations are resumed, a contract will be agreed upon which will be just to all.

Energy Harnessing

An Epochal Event

THE IMAGINATION is sent tettering and grave apprehensions are aroused over the astounding revelation that the United States has at last harnessed energy from the large-scale break-down of atoms for an unprecedented destructive force representing a revolutionary source of power that will change the fate of the whole world.

That this discovery should come now and here to postdate the frantic efforts of German scientists who were working on it is a blessing. With the revelation that it has been made and that a test bomb had been dropped upon a Japanese city, the people are naturally on the tip-toe of curiosity over the results obtained. The atomic power has been radioed from Guam to Washington and information will be cleared by the War Department at the latter place. Prompt advice is promised as soon as the necessary material is available.

The discovery is to be kept a profound secret, which is as it should be. The only intimation of the source of the terrific power unleashed is that uranium is essential to production of the bomb evolved. Uranium is the heaviest of the elements. Its atomic weight is 238; the atomic weight of hydrogen is 1, that of lithium is 7. When the latter two are combined under pressure of 2,000,000 volts inside a vacuum tube, the combination breaks up into two atoms of helium, each with an atomic weight of 4. The result is a big release of energy. Since uranium is many times heavier than lithium, it would release far more energy from disintegration.

Therefore, the advice by Dr. H. A. Wilson, professor of physics at Rice Institute, Texas, who directed a series of successful experiments on a base of the bomb developed, that the seizure and control of the world's supply of uranium by an international authority, such as the United Nations, is to the point. It is imperative that the mastery of this destructive principle does not fall into the wrong hands. The terrific power of the atomic bomb has already been disclosed in the epochal announcement concerning it. This affords the hope that the war in the Pacific will be shortened. Indeed, the intimation that a new invention to Japan demanding capitulation within forty-eight hours under pain of obliteration of the nation utterly may have the desired result. At any rate, it is so hoped.

The other hopeful expectation is that this epochal discovery will have the effect of averting future wars. It is a monster that could wipe out civilization. Accordingly, some protection must be found before the secret is given to the world—but caution demands that it be not so given.

While the imagination reels in contemplation of the awful destruction the discovery could visit upon civilization, there are hopes of great possibilities of its utilization for peace. The atomic bomb heralds the beginning of a new science. Speculations upon its revolutionary results are as amazing in their possibilities as the announcement of the bomb discovery. We hear of telephone-booth sized heating plants or great factories, 1,000-hour automobile trips on one gram of cheap fuel and the like. Vast economic changes are envisioned, but all portending cheaper, better, more convenient living. In short its peaceful uses are presently incalculable.

The thing makes one rub one's eyes in Alice-in-Wonderland fashion.

That Which Must Be Uprooted in Japan

SENATOR LUCAS (D-Ill.) says that the power of Japanese Emperor Hirohito must be wiped out "if we are to uproot and destroy fascism in Japan."

"If emperor-worship remains in Japan after the war is over," Lucas added, "the Japanese people will not be free to choose any form of government other than the one they understand today. That would destroy the very thing for which we are all fighting. The time has come when a decision upon the question should be made with those fighting the war against Japan."

The point is well taken, although it might be said that the purpose is not so much to destroy fascism as such in Japan as it is to destroy its militaristic oligarchy, of which Hirohito is the fountain-head, unless by fascism is meant militarism in the terms of which have been so entertained because of our experience with the rest of the Axis.

By whatever name it may be called, however, the war lord clique of Japan must be wiped out and the present emperor, because of his connivance with them, must be made to pay the penalty for his and their folly just as the other Axis war lords have been made to pay for their folly.

Statistical Reports

Stress Food Lessons

THE BREAD SUPPLY is not imperiled by the scarcity of sugar, but many a housewife's thoughts stray to the various foods into which sugar enters as an ingredient, as the meager supply is conserved for coffee, cereals and other necessities of the table.

But sugar is not the only food product which is involved in various other foods. Corn also has varied uses, and corn now has gained sugar in the danger zone for 1945-46.

In previous war housewives have encountered a scarcity of corn meal, but meat is a small part of the corn problem. Meats, both beef and pork, milk and eggs are tied up with it, and the department of Agriculture's forecast is for the smallest corn crop since 1941. The crop is estimated at 685,000,000 bushels, which with the arroyer from this year's crop will total less than 3,100,000,000 bushels.

This is roughly equivalent to the estimated consumption in the next twelve months, indicating that if the present rate of consumption is continued there will not be a bushel left when next year's crop comes in.

Reduction in the supply of corn means less feed for beef cattle, less feed for chickens, both for meat and to inspire laying, and may prevent the promised increase of twelve percent in the big crop this fall. A brighter side is a record crop of oats, estimated at 1,418,993,000 bushels, and of wheat at 1,450,000,000 bushels, which will make possible the use of wheat for livestock feeding. Feeding wheat formerly made more corn available for direct human consumption, but the practice was discontinued this year.

These are dry statistics from the reports of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, but they serve to teach two lessons—the current importance of putting into cans in the pantry as much of the current bumper vegetable crop as possible, and the stark fact that bureaucratic promises do not fill barrels.

Science Foundation Idea Refuted By One Concern

SINCE a recent editorial appeared in this newspaper on the Kilgore-Johnson-Pepper bill calling for the creation of a National Science Foundation, one interesting and important development has corroborated the contention therein that private industry and not the government is the better channel for the scientific research desired.

General Motors Corporation has announced the forthcoming construction of a giant technical center near Detroit where its research and advanced engineering, styling and process development work will be concentrated. It is an ambitious project. The proposed plant will cover 350 acres and is part of a half-billion-dollar expansion program.

The general idea back of the National Science Foundation proposal is that this country has lagged in research and that in order to bring it up to scratch it will be necessary for the government to take the lead and sustain the movement with taxpayers' money.

This one instance of research development by a single one of the country's big industrial concerns is sufficient proof alone that the traditional American way of individual initiative is far better. Certainly it is less expensive for the taxpayers, whose burdens must somehow or other be lightened if we are to have genuine widespread prosperity in the postwar era.

The Menace At Home

VARIOUS LOCALITIES have experienced a recent upswing in crime. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports an 8.4 percent increase from January to July over the same period last year, based on statistics from 392 cities of more than 25,000.

A comparison of records received from cities of more than 100,000 for the first six months of the prewar year 1939, with the same months of 1945, showed an increase this year of 46.2 percent in aggravated assault, 35.7 in rape and 14.5 in auto theft.

Law enforcement authorities the country over and there are confronted by an ugly and startling rise in crime. It is rapidly becoming a domestic menace of major proportions and means must be found to reverse the trend.

It is a problem, not alone for the FBI, but for all city, county and state officials.

Come postwar and we'll be taking the kiddies out to the farm to show 'em the cows, the sheep, the pigs, the chickens and the jeep.

United States mints are producing small coins at the rate of forty-six tons a day, which should go toward leading off a chicken feed shortage.

Controversy over women's right to wear shorts in public recalls grandmother's day, when she would rather have died than show her ankles in public.

Secretary Anderson's report on the Aitchison cave is very much to the point. It is ready to store surplus which do not exist.

THAT IMAGINATION OF YOURS

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GOD MUST have meant that we should make great use of our imagination, or else he would not have so abundantly endowed us with it.

From earliest childhood this imagination begins its work. It is tremendous and important that it has accurate and careful guidance. I am a believer in fairy tales and in Santa Claus, because they give to the child a healthy outlet for his imagination. Only in later life is it usually put to wrong use.

Nature feeds the imagination as it feeds the body. You can lie on a grassy bank and imagine as Richard Jeffries did when he wrote that beautiful book of his called "The Story of My Heart." The love of nature feeds the imagination, feeds it, and makes it nourishment that is both substantial and permanent.

Expert psychologists tell us that the imagination can do wonders in correcting defects of our lives and of our bodies. Many people need no physician outside their own imagination. If set rightly to work, most of our troubles and worries are products of the imagination wrongly directed. By putting it on the right track the troubles and worries melt away.

Note how quickly a patient gets to feeling better the moment the physician arrives, or gives a medicine that may be absolutely harmless, but which works because it runs along with the imagination. We can do so much with our minds and our bodies merely by directing our imagination. There is a well-known saying that "as a man thinketh, so is he." Nothing is truer.

The poet and novelist lives off his imagination. Figure out how far Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, or the Wright Brothers would have gotten without that feverish imagination of theirs. It was the imagination of Columbus that guided his frail crafts across the uncharted seas to a new world.

That imagination of yours is one of your most valuable assets. Do not abuse it. Master it and direct it. It will repay you a thousandfold in health and happiness.

Rules for Governing Occupied Germany, Kept Secret, Are Disclosed by Pearson

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — Just after the German armistice, Truman's war advisors drew up a set of rules for the governing of occupied Germany. Embodying the hopes of mankind to keep Germany from ever again waging war, it was one of the most carefully prepared documents ever placed before any president.

After being OK'd by Truman it was sent to Gen. Eisenhower, and plans were made by Assistant Secretary of State Clayton and other interested agencies to publish it. President Truman also gave his OK for publication.

However, something happened. Cables were quickly exchanged between Washington and SHAEF and the order for governing Germany, then known as JCS 1067 (Joint Chiefs of Staff order number 1067), was withheld from publication.

Sabotage by Peace Clique

Other government officials who favored publication were concerned that the "soft peace" clique inside the War department and their big business friends were sabotaging the order. The clique believes Germany must be built up as a buffer state against Russia. Many U. S. industrialists with factories in Germany and friends inside the War department are also anxious for a prosperous Germany. And an order which is not published is not always carried out.

So JCS 1067 was withheld from the public. Actually it still remains President Truman's official order to Gen. Eisenhower. But with the order secret, officers and men supposed to govern occupied Germany do not have a full blueprint of how Germany shall be occupied. For instance Order 1067 specifies that Germany shall have no higher standard of living than her surrounding neighbors.

Yet France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia now complain that Germany is prosperous while they are suffering. Meanwhile, Gen. Wade Haislip and Robert W. Grow, just back from Berlin, testify to the quick recovery and general prosperity of Germany.

Believing therefore that one of our chief objectives is to prevent Germany from ever again plunging the world into war, and believing this depends on our present and future treatment of Germany; finally believing that every American contributing to the war is entitled to know the exact blueprint for governing Germany and how it is being carried out, this column hereby publishes the essential portions of the blueprint JCS 1067. Since the order is long, space forbids complete publication. But the essential portions follow in this and a future column.

A Conquered Nation

"Basic objectives of military government in Germany."

"A"—It should be brought home to the Germans that Germany's ruthless warfare and the fanatical Nazi resistance have destroyed the German economy and made chaos and suffering inevitable and that the Germans cannot escape responsibility for what they have brought upon themselves.

"B"—Germany will not be occupied for the purpose of liberation but as a defeated enemy nation. Your aim is not oppression but to occupy Germany for the purpose of realizing certain important Allied objectives. In the conduct of your occupation and administration you should be just, but firm and aloof. You will strongly discourage fraternization with the German officials and population.

"C"—The principal Allied objective is to prevent Germany from ever again becoming a threat to the peace of the world. Essential steps in the accomplishment of this objective are the elimination of Nazism and militarism in all their forms, the immediate apprehension of war criminals for punishment, the industrial disarmament and demilitarization of Germany, with continuing control over Germany's capacity to make war and the preparation for an eventual reconstruction of German political life on a democratic basis.

Denazification

"A"—Proclamation dissolving Nazi party, its formations, affiliated associations and supervised organizations and all Nazi public institutions which were set up as instruments of party domination and prohibiting their revival in any form, should be promulgated by the Control Council. You will assure the prompt effectuation of that policy in your zone and will make every effort to prevent the reconstruction of any such organization in underground, disguised, or secret form.

"B"—The laws purporting to establish the political structure of National Socialism and the basis of the Hitler regime and all laws, decrees and regulations which establish discriminations on grounds of race, nationality, creed, or political opinions should be abrogated by the Control Council. You will render them inoperative in your zone.

"C"—All members of the Nazi party who have been more than nominal participants in its activities, all active supporters of Nazism or militarism, and all other persons hostile to Allied purposes will be removed and excluded from public office and from positions of importance in quasi-public and private enterprises (Nazi officials are still functioning in some areas).

"D"—Property, real and personal, owned or controlled by the Nazi party, its formations, affiliated associations and supervised organizations, and by all persons subject to arrest, and found within your zone, will be taken under your control pending a decision by the Control Council or higher authority as to its eventual disposition.

Nazi Books To Be Seized

"E"—All archives, monuments and museums of Nazi inception, or which are devoted to the perpetuation of German militarism, will be taken under your control and their properties held pending decision as to their disposition by the Control Council.

"F"—You will make special efforts to preserve from destruction and take under your control records, plans, books, documents, papers, files and scientific, industrial, and other information and data belonging to or controlled by the following:

(1) The Central German government and its subdivisions, German military organizations, organizations engaged in military research and such other governmental agencies as may be deemed advisable;

(2) The Nazi party, its formations, affiliated associations and supervised organizations;

(3) All police organizations, including security and political police;

(4) Important economic organizations and industrial establishments including those controlled by the Nazi party or its personnel;

(5) Institutes and special bureaus devoting themselves to racial, political, militaristic or similar research or propaganda.

Demilitarization

"A"—In your zone you will assure that all units of the German armed forces, including para-military organizations, are dissolved as such and that their personnel are promptly disarmed and controlled in accordance with policies and procedures set forth in the instrument of unconditional surrender or in other directives which may be issued to you.

"B"—The Control Council should proclaim and in your zone you will promulgate the total dissolution of all military and para-military organizations including the general staff, the German officers corps, the reserve corps and military academies, together with all associations which might serve to keep alive the military tradition in Germany.

"C"—You will seize or destroy all arms, ammunition and implements of war and stop the production thereof.

"D"—You will take proper steps to destroy the German war potential, as set forth elsewhere in this directive.

Suspected War Criminals Arrested

"A"—You will search out, arrest and hold pending receipt by you of further instructions as to their disposition, Adolf Hitler, his chief Nazi associates, other war criminals and other persons who have participated in planning or carrying out Nazi enterprises involving or resulting in atrocities or war crimes.

"B"—All persons who, if permitted to remain at large, would endanger the accomplishment of your objectives will also be arrested and held in custody until trial by an appropriate semi-judicial body to be established by you.

Political Activities

"A"—No political activities of any kind shall be countenanced unless authorized by you. You will assure that your military government does not become committed to any political group.

"B"—You will prohibit the propagation in any form of Nazi, militaristic or para-military doctrines.

"C"—No German parades, military or political, civilian or sports, shall be permitted by you.

German Courts

"A"—All extraordinary courts including the Volksgerichtshof (people's court) and the Sondergerichte (special courts) and all courts and tribunals of the Nazi party and of its formations, affiliated associations and supervised organizations will be abolished immediately.

How SMART ARE YOU?
Pleasant smart, if you are one of the thousands of girls and women who have found blessed relief from "monthly grump" in Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. Of course, they do not correct organic menstrual conditions that require consultation with your doctor. But they do help to relieve the discomfort of functional pains, cramps, headaches and nervousness that frequently accompany the normal menstrual period. Taken according to directions, preferably two or three days in advance of your time, Chi-Ches-Ters Pills tend to relax the muscular contraction that is often the cause of unnecessary distress. An added iron ingredient helps promote resistance and energy. Before suffering again ask your druggist for Chi-Ches-Ters Pills, and accept no substitute. Caution: Use only as directed.

Robertson Will Push Pan-American Highway Charges

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON—You can expect to hear a lot about the Pan-American highway for a long time.

Tenacious Senator Edward V. Robertson (R., of Wyoming) is convinced that the army engineer corps was lax there in its dealings with contractors and allowed itself to be charged exorbitant rates on machinery rentals.

Eying the vast amount of other work the army engineers handle, both in war and peace—such as river and harbor projects—Robertson thinks that charging them with some inefficiency on the Pan-American job might save the American taxpayer a lot of money in future years.

He would, he believes, serve to make the engineers more than every way of deals that might look bad under congressional scrutiny.

So Robertson plans to follow through and see that the inquiry doesn't get sidetracked. Not that there seems to be any danger of that, the hard-working Menard War Investigating committee seems just as determined to get at the question as Robertson is.

Transportation Mess Seen

The average person does not realize it yet, but America's transportation system at home will be in a mess for many months after Japan is defeated.

Then there will be millions of workers leaving war factory areas on both coasts who will be looking for new jobs or heading back to their old home towns and farms.

In fact, the shifting population already has begun to be felt in some areas, where outcrops have caused widespread unemployment. In other sections there still is a shortage of labor.

The situation will be eased somewhat after the Japanese war when more gasoline is available for civilian driving, although many cars are not in condition for long trips. At any rate, there is little chance of real pleasure riding on railroads or airlines for many months after the end of the war.

Anderson Eats Steaks

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, the nation's food boss, was the guest at a dinner in Washington recently, at the hosts were reporters assigned to cover the food front.

Anderson has heard plenty about the meat shortage since he took office—but he dined on steaks at that particular dinner in a Washington restaurant.

And reporters who planned the affair insisted they were not black market steaks. Anderson said it was one of the best meals he has had in some time. (By the way, where is that restaurant, Ed?)

Bill on Fortune Tellers

President Truman probably doesn't know it yet, but one of the tasks that will confront him soon is the fixing of fees charged by fortune tellers in the Panama Canal zone.

Rep. Joe W. Ervin (D., of North Carolina), is the source of that interesting bit of information. And he has been so perturbed about it he has introduced a bill which would authorize the chief executive to delegate such tasks to someone else.

Ervin pointed out that the late President Roosevelt's last day was taken up with signing postmasters' appointments involving or resulting in "such minor details constitute a strain upon the president's health."

Executive Trend Feared

Senator Wayne L. Morse (R., of Oregon), fears that Democratic government is being threatened by the war trend to do everything by executive order.

Morse thinks if the trend continues, Congress will be reduced to a body having no important function except the appropriation of funds.

He wants special congressional committees named to keep an eye on the doings of executive agencies as part of a program to streamline and improve the functioning of the legislative branch.

Special Functions Performed

The U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff have recognized that each of the three forces perform a special function, but when the actual invasion of Japan or China occurs there will be a blending of forces exactly as happened for a few days in Europe. Thus Adm. Nimitz will conduct the landing operations in which the navy plays a part—and it will be the major part. The strategic air forces will for the time being be blended with the landing operations so that when the troops have been landed and their initial positions have been made secure, Gen. MacArthur will have command of all land forces as well as the strategic and tactical air forces, but he will not have any command over the navy's protective operations at sea, since these can best be handled from a command that is aloof.

There is in army and navy and air force circles here a complete understanding of the plan for the invasion, and it has sufficient flexibility to take care of unforeseen contingencies. The high officers most concerned in all branches see no confusion in it but are preparing to demonstrate that all the armed services can be co-ordinated without putting any one man in charge of all operations.

(Reproduction rights reserved)

Within the last few days orders have been issued which are called "clarification," but they in reality follow out the plans made some time ago whereby the armed services are to be given specific tasks in given situations and no "supreme commander" is to be appointed for the whole operation.

There is a widespread misunderstanding as to what Gen. Eisenhower commanded. Again and again it is asserted that he was the "supreme commander" of all Allied forces in Europe. But high officers who are familiar with the set-up pointed out today that this is a mistaken impression. Thus there were six separate and distinct commands in Europe as follows:

Six Distinct Commands

1. The British navy, which included the coastal air defense in which the RAF operated under the navy.

2. The combined strategic air forces of the United States and Great Britain, which means the RAF together with our own bombing forces.

3. The United States Navy command in the Atlantic, which included anti-submarine operations, protection of convoys and naval defense against enemy navies.

4. Allied forces in the Mediterranean and Italy commanded by Gen. Alexander of the British army.

5. Command of all Russian armies, which was conducted from Moscow and in the field by Russian commanders solely.

6. Gen. Eisenhower's supreme command of all Allied troops on the western front, starting in France.

With the exception of the brief period of the landing on Normandy, when the strategic air forces as well as the British and American navies worked together for a few days under Gen. Eisenhower, the latter did not have continuous overall command of army, navy and air forces in Europe.

Same in Pacific

Hence the situation in the Pacific is really parallel to that of Europe and if one chooses to call it "divided command" the phrase applies as much to what happened in defeating Germany as it applies to the plan for defeating Japan.

Actually it is a unified command at the top level but with specific tasks assigned to each of the armed services.

Thus the United States Navy continues to function in its own special way in the Pacific under Adm. Nimitz, controlling its aircraft carriers and surface and submarine forces as well as the marine corps.

The strategic air forces of the army continue to operate independently under Gen. Spaatz but in the selection of targets in advance there is collaboration between the naval air arm and the land-based air forces.

The army to be used against Japan is to be commanded by Gen. MacArthur. This will consist of all ground forces now in the Pacific, including those in Okinawa and the Philippines and all new divisions as they come from the United States and Europe.

There is no "confusion" about the plan except in the minds of those who would like to have the whole setup changed so that an army man commands the navy or a navy man commands the army and the air forces.

Democratic Party Support Is Increasing under Truman

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., Aug. 7.—President Harry S. Truman's middle-of-the-road policies are beginning to find reflection in new strength for the Democratic Party.

On the basis of questioning among many thousands of persons in all parts of the country, the Institute finds a four point rise in Democratic party strength as compared to either the November presidential election figures or to party strength figures published after President Truman took office.

The question used to gauge party strength is:

"If the presidential election were being held today, which party would you vote for—the Democratic or Republican?"

Here are the replies, with other figures for comparison:

Major Party Strength
Nov., 1944 54% 46%
May, 1945 54 46
TODAY 58 42

Twenty-three per cent included in the survey say they have no opinion on the question.

This is a measure of party strength based upon a full voting population. It is not to be confused with Congressional elections in which a smaller number of voters turn out—a fact which has aided the Republican Party in recent past elections.

There is little evidence in this survey of party shifting among the people who voted last November in the presidential elections. Those who say they voted for Roosevelt then are still overwhelmingly Democratic. Dewey voters remain for the most part loyal to the Republican Party.

The great part of the new-found Democratic party strength today comes from people who say they did not vote in the last presidential election—people who were ineligible or did not get to the polls for one reason or another.

The increase in Democratic party strength poses problems for Republican leaders, many of whom have been looking ahead optimistically to the 1946 congressional and the 1948 presidential elections. Democratic leaders have the job of retaining the new strength and of translating it in terms of ballots actually cast in favor of their candidates on election day, both in 1946 and 1948.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And where it gets blocked when it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out thoroughly—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and thoroughly "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore—25c. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

THE CATHARTIC HABIT

★ Too many people are influenced by stories concerning "intestinal cleanliness" or "stimulating the flow of bile." Many cases of simple constipation do not require a laxative at all, but only a minor change in diet and habit.

The habitual use of cathartics is dangerous. Such misuse is often followed by chronic ill health. Strong laxatives are particularly dangerous when taken to relieve abdominal distress. The source of the pain should always be accurately determined by your physician. The safe procedure is to consult him. If a laxative is needed, he will prescribe a safe preparation with proper instructions for dosage. Then bring your prescription to us for expert compounding.

Two Held on Assault Charges after Fight

Perry Russell, about 45, Tennessee, and Minter Skipper, 41, Harrison street, formerly of North Carolina, are being held in the county jail for hearings on assault charges as the result of a fight on Route 40 near Donahue's roadside inn Monday night. Skipper suffered knife cuts of the left leg and wrist, chest and back and was treated at Allegany hospital where thirty stitches were needed to close the wounds. Russell suffered bruises of the right leg and left arm. Both men had been drinking, authorities said. According to Morgan C. Harris, state's attorney, the fight followed an argument in Bedford, where the two men, Skipper's wife and another woman had driven earlier in the evening. Russell and the other woman left Bedford and were stalled on Red Hill when Skipper and his wife, in a taxi, came upon the Russell car, authorities said, adding that Skipper struck Russell who then pulled a knife.

Warring Parents Who Get Divorce Benefit Children

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

How do you feel when parents throw up their hands after reading some tale of delinquency and ask what is the world coming to? Then, if they are the holier-than-thou type, they remind you that 1,300,000 men at the induction centers of the armed forces were rejected as mentally unfit for duty.

Perhaps these parents may have had a son among the rejected, and they'll tell you what a good home the boy came from, and no divorce had ever been considered in the family.

It seems now on excellent evidence there are other ways of ruining a child's existence for success in life than by broken homes. Psychiatrists are of the opinion that it's better for constantly warring parents to get a divorce than to allow a child to grow up in such an atmosphere. Sometimes it happens that parents actually refuse to speak to each other—consider the effect of that on children.

Too Much Pampering
Dr. Kenneth E. Appel, assistant president of psychiatry, University of Pennsylvania Medical School, while he doesn't fail to mention broken homes as a source of delinquency among the adolescents, charges that mental failure among the young is in a large measure an indictment of the too soft, too indulgent and unrealistic rearing and education of youth in home and school.

He speaks of adolescent patients of his, so pampered through childhood and youth that they never required to do a job of work and carry it through. They flunked out of school until they found one slack enough to pass them, but when these mama-and-papa's darlings were drafted into the armed forces, they took refuge in regarding themselves as invalids.

The "Blueprint" Life
Another type of conspicuous failure among the young is the boy or girl whose life is laid out by the parents with the precision of a blueprint. The poor youngster never has had a chance to deviate one inch from parental authority. When the child is on his own, he utterly lacks initiative, resourcefulness, experimentation, with the result that he's a conspicuous failure. The broken home has, of course, much to answer for, but it's not the whole story. Children who stealthily watch their parents wander down the primrose path with casual partners, lose confidence in the home, their parents and the world in which they live. Until they forfeit the right by their own folly, parents are regarded by their children as fireside deities. If your boy or girl is a conspicuous failure, to which type of parent do you belong? (Copyright 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Community House To Be Recreation Center in Coney

By MARIE MERRBACH

LONA CONING, Aug. 7.—The Lonaconing community house will be a recreational center for adolescents and adults under the maintenance of strong local organizations following a privilege granted for two years by the mayor and town council at their monthly session Monday night in the council chamber, Railroad street.

Representatives of the Lonaconing Lions Club appeared before the council to request the availability of the local community building to organize and support a recreational center for both the youth and adults of the town. The plans are to have a board of directors in charge from the many organizations which will sponsor the project.

A motion was passed by the council to the effect that a safe turning place will be made on High street near the property of John R. Merrbach. The road committee will examine the turn conditions and begin the best possible repairs.

The Lonaconing city band and the Goodwill Volunteer Fire Company No. 1, were granted permission by the town to hold a street jubilee on the Main stem three nights the last week of August.

Following a request of the Lonaconing fire company the street supervisor was ordered to have the weeds cleared from near the fire plugs in all sections of the community.

The council voted in favor of adding a few lengths of pipe to the sewer that runs through the property of the former Thompson lot, now owned by J. Irwin Thomas, Main street. The alley by Thomas Wilson's home on Gills hill will be blocked off by a decision of the council. The road committee was asked also the look at Railroad street by the depot to see what improvements can be made.

The council voted to set the $2,800 appropriated for roads aside specifically to be spent on the roads. The street supervisor will collect garbage in the evenings. Garbage fees are to be paid to the city clerk at A. P. Green's office, Main street. Town taxes may also be paid to the clerk at Green's office.

Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Moore, Newburyport, Mass., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Barbara R. Moore, to Edward C. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanders, Beachly street, Meyersdale. The ceremony was performed in the chapel of the Navy Receiving Station, Boston, Mass., Friday evening, July 13, at 7 o'clock.

Attendants were J. J. Doherty, a shipmate of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Doherty. The Rev. Father Pryor, navy chaplain, officiated. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Mohana Club, Boston, which was attended by the bride's parents and a number of friends of the newlyweds.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance which budded when Mr. Sanders took his pharmacy's training course in Boston following his boot training at Bainbridge, 1943. He attended the local high school until his senior year when his parents moved to Rockwood. After his graduation from Rockwood high school in 1941 he was employed in Baltimore until he enlisted in the navy in February, 1943. He served thirteen months in the Pacific area, returning to the states last February. His ship, the USS Canberra, has since been docked in Boston for repairs.

The couple are now at home in an apartment at 7 Frost street, Cambridge, Mass.

India now has 40,500 miles of railroad track and its railroads carried 789,000,000 passengers in 1944.

SHARE THAT PAIN

I used to hate to cry;
I thought that tears
Were babyish and weak.
A sign of cowardice.
And so I held my tears
Against my fear and grief—
And vowed I would not cry
However I was hurt.

I used to hate to cry.
Or show my loss
Or let the world see how
My heart was often torn
By bitter grief—
I thought I would be strong
And wear a cheerful face—
I thought it wise to hide
My bitterness and hurt—
I thought an armored smile
Could heal all woes—
But now I know
It's better far to show
The fear, the weakness
And the suffering.

It's better far for us
To let our own tears flow
Into a common cup.
To share our sorrows
As one shares the Host
With others, kneeling.
Take the bread and wine—
So we are bound together, you and I.
Within one common prayer,
One common faith.

For grief's a lonely thing—
Stored tears make bitterness—
But from shared sorrow
Life springs up renewed.

We only hoard our pain
And warp our hearts and minds
When we keep sorrow
To ourselves—
There is no healing
In a pent up wound.
Those only serve
Who share their weakness—
Those only keep strong
Who dare to bare
Their hurt—
And they alone have drunk
The bitter wine,
And they alone
Have eaten of the bread
That holds new life,
And they alone
Have risen from the dead.

HOME SERVICE?

It's just another way your Gas company is helping to win this war on the home front.

By Home Service, we mean our efficiently-organized group of women, under a thoroughly qualified Home Service Director, which is today filling a vital role in advancing better nutrition and helping to show homemakers how to do home-canning, drying and storage of foodstuffs.

Through the Red Cross, through the schools, through many other channels, the women of your Gas company are doing their part for victory—and they are very glad to be of service. Feel free to ask them any questions on foods.

Helis Pays $35,000 For Blue Larkspur Colt At Meadow Brook Sales
WESTBURY, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP)—William Helis of New Orleans, topped bidders for the first day of the yearling sales at the Meadow Brook Club today when he paid $35,000 for a dark bay colt by Blue Larkspur-Gallant Lady, consigned by the Nydrie stud.

Though the prices today did not compare with those of the recent sales at Lexington, Ky., the results were satisfactory to the Fasig-Tipton Company which is conducting the sales. Sixty-one head were offered and brought $221,000 for an average of $3,623.

Helis bought two other colts for $5,000 each, and a gray by Imp Gino-Teddy's Cross consigned by the Kentmore farm, and a bay colt by the Assoc. Gold Cup winner, Flares, out of Broad Ripple.

Second highest price of the day was paid by Joseph M. Roebeling, $21,000 for a dark bay filly by Meadow-Helise and consigned by the Myrdie stud.

L. Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Sagamore farm disposed of fourteen colts and fillies for $38,400, one of the fillies, by Bahram going to Mrs. Elizabeth Arden for $5,500. Six yearlings consigned by W. H. Lipscomb brought $20,200.

The sales will continue Wednesday and Thursday.

Nineteen Slated To Race For Rich Trotting Prize

Titan Hanover Rated 1 to 4 Favorite in Hambletonian

By ORLO ROBERTSON
GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—Nineteen three-year-olds, the largest field ever to start in the Hambletonian, tomorrow will race for trotting's richest prize since 1932.

Titan Hanover such a heavy favorite that no betting will be permitted on the Harriman-Gerry colt. Titan figured to be the 1 to 4 favorite to pull down the winner's share of the $51,046.96 purse in straight heats. Under the plan adopted horses finishing second, third and fourth will pay off at the mutuels.

The crowd is expected to reach 15,000. The size of the field was a surprise even to horsemen, for never in the nineteen year history of the buggy whip derby has one horse stood out as does the little bay for which E. Roland Harriman and Capt. Elbridge T. Gerry paid $3,000 as a yearling.

The son of Calumet Chuck, trained and driven by Harry Pownall, established three world records for two-year-olds last year, including a two minute performance. He was beaten in three heats but came back each time to take the race. This year he won his two starts handsily.

Good time parks track was slow today from yesterday's rain, but give continued sunshine it will be fast for the big test, which will be decided on a two-out-of-three basis. If different horses split the first three miles, the heat winners will come back for the deciding brush.

With the purse topping all others since The Marchioness thirteen years ago won the major share of $53,339, the winner will take down $27,608.33. Titan already has earned around $32,000, including $25,000 as a two year old.

While Titan has been going merrily on his way, his rivals have been changing the runnerup position almost with every heat. E. J. Baker's Algiers, the only horse given any kind of a chance of whipping the Harriman-Gerry colt, went wrong and was not named to start.

Titan received none of the best of it in the draw for post positions. He drew No. 12, meaning he'll start in the second flight.

Reynold's Revald, one of the most consistent of the money horses in other races this season, The Winston Salem, N. C. son of Scotland will be on the pole. That position, plus the presence of Karina, a stablemate, is expected to make the Ben White-trained colt the favorite betting choice at 12-1.

Rated next in line, at 15-1 are Lt. Col. Dunbar Bostwick's Kimberlin Hanover, second to Titan in last week's national stake, and Octave Blake's Axomite.

Eight Sprinters Are Nominated For Robert C. Wilson Memorial

Little Jewelry Trophy Is Also Listed; Fast Track Is Anticipated

Eight sprinters have been nominated for Robert C. Wilson Memorial, the fifth race on today's card at the Cumberland Fair Grounds. The race bears the name of the late Robert C. Wilson, former director of the Cumberland Fair Association and past president of the Allegany County Fair Bureau.

Those named to vie for the $800 purse over five eighths of a mile are Arch McDonald, Boston Broom and Frosty River, coupled as the McKinney-Kendrick entry, Lady Wheaty, High Sir, Gallant, Caid's Best and Blue Beauty.

The Queen City Neon Company will present a trophy in the form of a $25 war bond to the owner of the winning horse in the memorial event.

Feature No. 2 on the second day of the ten-day meeting is the Little Jewelry Company trophy, which will be the sixth event, and will be over six and a half furlongs. The well known jewelry firm will donate a trophy to the winning owner.

Yesterday's sunny weather began drying out the local half mile strip and a fast track is anticipated for today if good weather continues to prevail. Post time for the first of the eight races is 2:30 p. m.

Fairgo Notes
Racing fans got a chuckle out of an incident which occurred yesterday at Fairgo. Before the first race got under way Announcer Russler asked those seated in the grandstand to stand for the playing of the National Anthem. When the P. A. system went haywire Russler asked the gathering to be seated and informed them that the National Anthem would be played before the third race. The fans have yet to hear the National Anthem. It's a good thing they were requested to sit down.

Jockey Johnny Morris and Trainer Buck Townsley have been notified by Uncle Sam to report for duty on August 14 and 17, respectively.

Kiddies Baby turned and Joe Covelli slid off as the horses approached the starting gate before the fourth race got under way yesterday. Kiddies Baby must have been looking for her mom as she headed for the barns in a hurry, but finally was stopped at the paddock gate and escorted back to the starting line by an outrider.

Norman Corbin's Fleetest, considered the best sprinter to show on a state track of less than a mile this year, reports the filly injured her head Saturday at Bel Air, while being loaded in his private van.

Stanley Green, Jr., has fifteen horses, one of the largest strings on the ground.

Understudies Will Be Presented In Radio Show

By JEAN MEEGAN
NEW YORK, August 7 — Every once in a while somebody in radio has a pang of conscience about getting some new talent. It doesn't take Ellery Queen to discover that nearly everyone of the important radio entertainers is an old timer—and an old timer out of vaudeville. Jack Benny, Ed Bergen, Fred Allen, Eddie Cantor are just a few. Miss Jean Tenneyson, who is secure as the star of "Great Moments in Music" (her husband is the sponsor) is behind a plan for using Broadway's singing understudies on her show. It's just possible that this plan may work. Anyway, the sponsor will get off with a comparatively light budget and the theater's understudies, beginning with Doreen Wilson, understudy to the lead in "The Song of Norway" who goes on at 10 Wednesday night on CBS, will have a new bank of hope.

Dick Kollmar, after playing

Michael West in "A Woman's Life" (see "Bright Horizons") for four years has bowed out. Don MacLaughlin (David Harding in "Counterspy") replaces Kollmar in the CBS serial heard daily at 11:30 a. m.

A new television set has been manufactured that will cost only $100. It's a table set with a seven-inch viewing tube.

It is quite possible that "Radio Reader's Digest" will be cancelled from its Sunday night spot on CBS. Another "doubtful" this coming season is "Miss Hattie," the ABC Sunday afternoon dramatic show which starred Ethel Barrymore last winter.

—Tanganyika Railways, in Africa, report a 623 per cent increase in mileage of transport service since extending service into the southern highlands.

Frostburg Lions To Hold Charter Night in October

FROSTBURG, Aug. 7.—The charter night dinner of the newly organized Frostburg Lions Club will be held October 10 with the charter to be presented by District Governor E. Lester Mobley, Hagerstown, Md. Special representative of Lions International, said tonight.

Plans for the charter night dinner, which also will be a ladies night affair, were outlined at a permanent organization meeting held tonight in Harris's restaurant with forty-five members and guests present. The club charter was closed with twenty-five charter members.

At the business session, conducted by Slater, officers and directors to complete the board of directors were elected. Officers elected tonight in addition to those named a week ago are: Simon W. Green, second vice president; L. Joseph Robinson, third vice president; William Dolder, lion tamer; William M. Thomas and Joseph M. Freehand, directors for two years, and Earl W. Blough and W. W. Stuss, Jr., directors for one year.

Committee chairman named include Leo P. Dean, membership; G. Alvin Kreiling, finance; Upton B. P. Edwards, constitution and by-laws; Herbert E. Loar, charter night.

The club will hold regular meetings the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 6:30 p. m. and the board of directors will meet the third Wednesday in each month. The board will hold its first meeting at 8 p. m. next Wednesday at the home of Herbert E. Loar, first vice president, who presided last night.

P. E. Myers, Cumberland, presented a sizeable figure of a lion to the club as a table decoration on behalf of the Cumberland club.

Guests at the meeting included delegates from the Cumberland, Mt. Savage, Lonaconing and Westport clubs. Honor guests were Mobley, Roy Hoffman, Hagerstown, secretary-treasurer for the district governor's cabinet, and Joseph Fischer, of the Hamilton Lions club, Baltimore.

Miss Margery Hinkle, a music student at State Teachers college, was pianist for the singing.

Margaret Harris Is Taken by Death

Margaret Jane Harris, 13, died yesterday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock at the home of her aunt, Mrs. G. W. Allender, 412 Central avenue, with whom she made her home.

Besides her father, who also makes his home with Mrs. Allender, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Louise Getty, this city, and Gene Harris, Baltimore.

She was a native of Randolph county, W. Va. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Cunningham Harris, died several years ago.

The body is at the Allender home where funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

MRS. TWIGG RITES
Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the George funeral home for Mrs. Anna Rockwell Twigg, 84, of 437 Grand avenue, who died Monday morning in Memorial hospital.

The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be in Zion Memorial cemetery.

RICHARD WADSWORTH
Friends here of Mrs. Grace Wadsworth, Pittsburgh, Pa., have received word of the death of her son, Richard "Dick" Wadsworth, at his home in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Wadsworth lived on Bedford street here in 1944 and was a member of Centre Street Methodist church.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his widow and two children, four brothers and two sisters.

MRS. WEBB RITES
Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie V. Webb, 74, widow of Joseph V. Webb, who died Saturday at her home, 221 Emily street, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kight funeral home.

The Rev. H. A. Kester, pastor of Kingsley Methodist church, officiated. Interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Palbearers were Elmer Henderson, Edward Dowling, Clifton Fuller, Argyle Flake, James Deek and Cleggett L. Loy.

MRS. BARNES RITES
Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in First Church of the Nazarenes, Oldtown road, for Mrs. Flora Barnes, 72, wife of Samuel E. Barnes, 418 Seymour street, who died Monday afternoon in Allegheny hospital.

The Rev. C. N. Hutchinson, pastor of the church, will officiate and interment will be in Mt. Hermon cemetery.

The body is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lulu Pillion, 305 Pennsylvania avenue.

MRS. GROSS RITES
Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. Gross, 86, wife of James A. Gross, 131 Grand avenue, who died at her home Sunday after an illness of one month, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Trinity Methodist church.

The Rev. W. Clark Main, pastor of the church, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. S. R. Neel, former pastor. Interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Brief services by the auxiliary of Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Lodge No. 440, were conducted at the church.

Palbearers were Gene Nixon, Irvin Nixon, A. J. Ganik, G. W. Holtzman, H. L. Mahoney and A. J. Logue.

HEAVY JULY RAINS TERMED DISASTROUS TO MARYLAND CROPS

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 7 (AP)—The heavy July rains were termed "disastrous" today by Dr. T. B. Symons, extension service director at the University of Maryland, who reported that the crop loss exceeded an estimated $8,000,000 and some Eastern Shore farmers were not expected to harvest a single cash crop. The director said that the Eastern Shore tomato crop was the worst hit with losses expected to total at least $4,000,000. The average annual state tomato yield of $10,000,000 was severely set back with a thirty percent cut in Harford county and twenty-five per cent cut in Dorchester county was reported.

Wheat also was adversely affected, Dr. Symons pointed out, with the crop damaged or uncut in most Maryland fields. The damage has in some measure been offset by the good stands of corn and hay and good pastures. The weather, however, must take a turn for the better if farmers are to cut their hay, the director said.

Welfare Board Member Sought By Patterson

Asks Commissioners for Suggestions on Successor to Miss Coulehan

J. Milton Patterson, director of the state department of public welfare, yesterday asked the Allegheny County Commissioners for suggestions for a successor to Miss Margaret Coulehan, formerly of the Allegheny County Welfare Board.

Patterson pointed out that Miss Coulehan, who accepted a position with the American Red Cross in Baltimore, would have held her appointment on the welfare board until May 31, 1950.

Patterson said that before taking notice to the state board for approval he would like the commissioners' suggestions and asked that they "bear in mind that the lower part of the county, around Westernport, is not represented on the board."

The state director also informed the commissioners that "Mr. Joseph Mansfield at one time served very faithfully on the board and Mrs. Michael H. Frantz, Westernport, has also been mentioned."

The commissioners took Patterson's request under advisement. The commissioners received a resolution from Memorial Post No. 159, American Legion, Mt. Savage, asking for the completion of the Savage River dam as soon as possible after the cessation of hostilities.

An invitation from C. L. Robinson, secretary of the McCoolle Volunteer Fire Department, to attend the department's seventh anniversary Saturday, August 11, was also received by the commissioners.

William Wagner appeared before the board to ask that a road near Oldtown be repaired. The request was referred to County Engineer John H. Carscaden.

C. W. Tuebner Heads Local Forty and Eight

C. William Tuebner was elected Chief of Gare of Voiture Locale 164, Forty and Eight, last night to succeed Joseph L. Wolfe.

Other new officers are: Chief de Train, Paul Weismiller; correspondent, Ray Whitson; Commissaire, Paul Fleming; Ammonier, Robert C. Bower; Commes Voyager, Thomas Blacklin; Lampiste, Humphrey Johnson; Guard de Laporte, Charles O. O'Donnell.

Delegates elected to attend the Grand Promenade August 24 in Baltimore were Wesley Abrams, V. P. Ingram, S. A. Graham, C. William Tuebner, John R. Kelly, David W. Sloan, Phil Fleming and Paul C. Weismiller.

Local News in Brief
Howard M. Smith, manager of the local office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, will show sound movies at the luncheon meeting of the Lions club in Central YMCA at 12:15 p. m. today.

Workers of the State Tent and Canvas Company will meet Friday at 3:45 p. m. in Textile hall, William E. Meagher, president of Local 1874, TWU, announced yesterday.

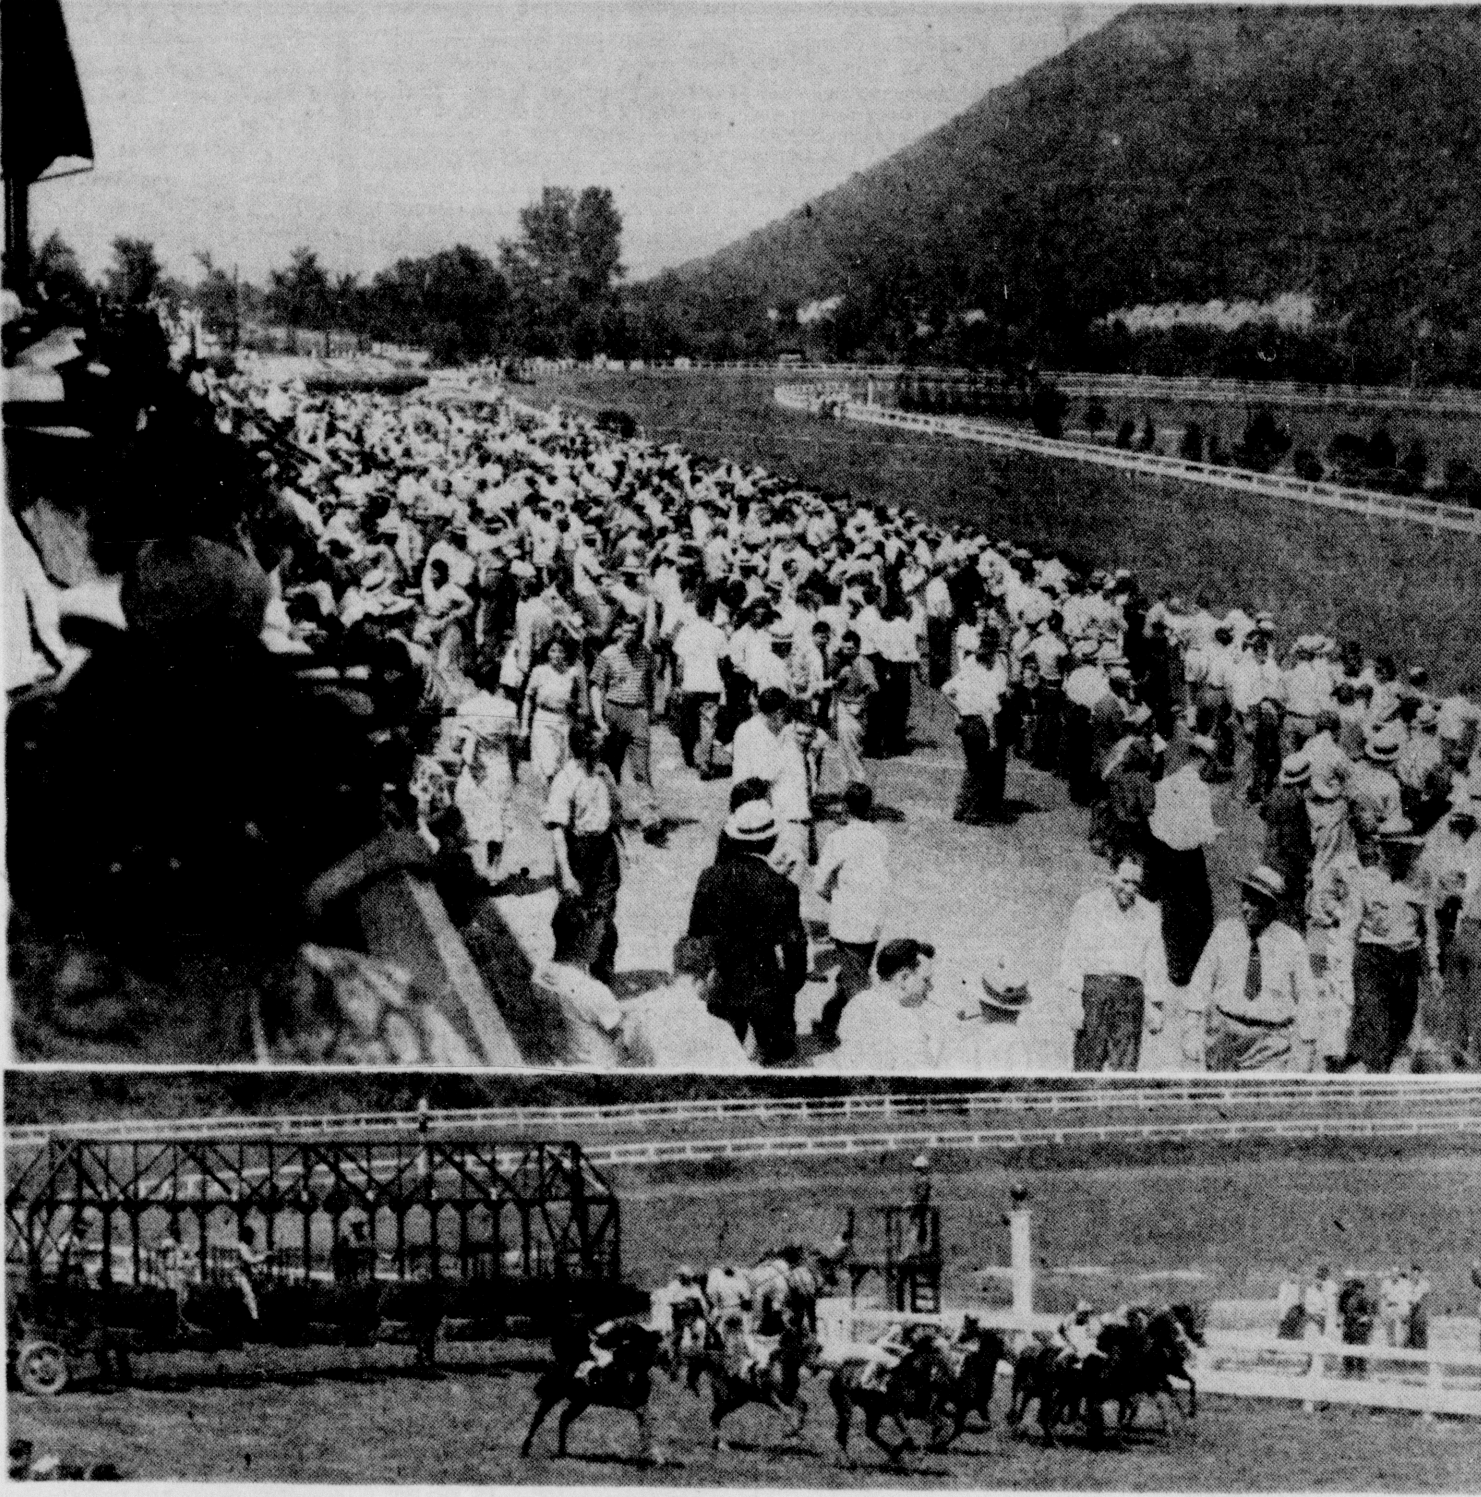

L. H. Wilson, of the Baltimore military police section, will lead here yesterday afternoon on an inspection tour of the local MP detail.

The will of Charles Arthur Ansel, of Frostburg, who died June 5, 1943, was admitted to probate yesterday, naming his wife, Mrs. Julia Ansel, as sole beneficiary, with his youngest son, Frank Henry Ansel, as executor of the estate. The will was drawn February 17, 1942, and witnessed by Mrs. Mary L. Carter, Guyton E. Coleman and Richard Thomas. The latter is now serving overseas in the army.

Lawrence Wheeler Sines, 18, Hoves Run, near Oakland, who suffered a gunshot wound in the left knee Sunday, was in a "good" condition in Memorial hospital last evening.

First Lt. L. A. Sykes, son of Mrs. Beatrice Sykes, The Dingle, and the late Dr. L. A. Sykes, one of the first American fliers to use the captured Chinese city of Foochow is home for two weeks before reporting to Selman field, Monroe, La., as an instructor. He wears the DPC air medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, and the China theater battle star. He has 520 combat hours to his credit.

Sgt. Robert W. Ambrose, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ambrose, Bedford Road, has been honorably discharged from the army at Fort Dix, N. J., after serving forty-three months overseas where he amassed a total of 104 points.

VFW Will Start Chaplain's Hour In Near Future

Spiritual Advice Will Be Offered by Ministers to Servicemen

Inauguration within the near future of a chaplain's hour to provide spiritual advice for servicemen and discharged veterans was announced last night by Henry Hart Post, No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, following a meeting at the post house.

The Rev. E. G. A. Snider, pastor of the United Brethren church at Ridgeley, W. Va., and a member of the post, was named chairman of the chaplain's hour committee by John Pike, post commander.

Members of the committee will be named by the Rev. Mr. Snider and that group will designate the date and hour the chaplain's hour service will start.

Will Fly Church Flag
At the present time, it is expected to hold the chaplain's hour on Sunday afternoons. Priests, preachers and rabbis will be asked to meet at the VFW home and offer advice to servicemen or discharged veterans who seek it. During the chaplain's hour, the church flag will be flown atop the national colors.

Inauguration of the program was decided upon by the VFW in response to an appeal from servicemen for religious guidance. Many servicemen, especially those who have been overseas, when in a tight spot and facing death called on God for help, and one purpose of the chaplain's hour will be to help keep war veterans mindful of religion, members of the organization reported.

Twenty-three new members, all veterans of the Second World war, were inducted at the session last night, boosting the post's membership to 1410.

Charles L. Benton, of West Baltimore Post, No. 476, was a guest at the meeting and he spoke briefly on the growth of Henry Hart Post, recalling that it is the largest post in Maryland and this part of the United States.

Department Commander Coming
Following the meeting, it was announced that Frank Weipert, Baltimore, Maryland Department commander, will make his official visit to the local post on Saturday, September 1. He will be at the post home from 7 to 9 p. m.

Pfc. Charles P. Simmons, home on furlough from service with the marines in the South Pacific; Francis E. Travis, momm, second class, home on leave from submarine service in the South Pacific; William Norwood, now discharged from the Germans for nine months, and Technician Fifth Grade N. L. Gillespie, now discharged from the army after serving in the South Pacific, spoke briefly on their experiences.

Eighteen letters from members of the post now serving overseas were received recently by the post. All of them expressed appreciation for services performed by the post and asked to hear from the organization.

James Kloran will broadcast August 11 over station WTBO in another of the VFW's series of programs on Americanism.

Reports Theft
George L. House, 110 Bellevue street, reported to police yesterday that two shovels and a pick were stolen from his home Monday night.

Considerable Discussion Is Heard Here on the New Atomic Bomb

Alfred Africano Says the United States Is the Only Country That Can Afford To Develop It

Cumberland people awed by the almost overwhelming potentialities of the new atomic bomb can gain some reassurance from the opinion advanced by an Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory scientist that probably no other country in the world could afford to develop the bomb except the United States.

This opinion was advanced by Alfred Africano, assistant director of the laboratory, who said, "But the main thing to remember about this discovery is that it opens up new vistas in jet propulsion at longer range than ever before was considered possible."

What the scientist was talking about was the harnessing of this sun-powered new explosive to drive rockets under unheard of distances.

"If this explosive can be controlled, rockets to Europe would be a comparatively simple matter and the possibilities are even greater than that," he said.

Germany failed, Africano declared, because it did not have sufficient resources and wealth to develop and produce the atomic bomb.

The harnessing of atomic energy by scientists would usher in an era that would very likely make Flash Gordon look like a piker, it was admitted.

While scientists at the ballistics plant talked along the line of harnessing the atomic explosion and making it work for them, the average man on the street seemed to be mainly concerned with how quick the bomb would put Japan out of the war.

Ten people asked for their reaction to the new bomb and its possibilities all said in effect, "Well, Japan shouldn't last long now, if what they say is true."

Typical of this sort of thought was the statement of Frank Pannone, 433 Race street, who said, "I figure if what they say is true that the Japs shouldn't last two weeks. And I say give them the works. I have three boys in the army and I want to see them home."

Five others said they weren't well enough informed on the subject to give an opinion one way or another, although one man in this group, a traveling man from Philadelphia, said, "It seems to me our government is doing too much talking about this thing. That's the trouble with them down there in Washington, they all talk too much. It looks as if they had something. If that's the case, why not just keep it quiet entirely to keep these other fellows from getting it. Go ahead and use it, but just button up and not say a word, that's the way."

One man, who asked that his name not be revealed, said he was opposed to the new bomb on religious grounds.

Moved to Frederick
Bloodworth added in his letter that he understands the government agency is considering further reducing the number attending conventions to a limit of twenty-five, or possibly forbidding holding of any conventions at all.

When the convention was first scheduled for Cumberland, it was expected that from 150 to 165 delegates would attend the sessions here. Later, the convention site was changed to Frederick with the latest alteration of plans moving it to Baltimore.

W. Russler, past grand chancellor of Maryland, said last night, however, that the convention will be held here in 1946 if the ODT ban is lifted. Russler now is a candidate for supreme representative of the Domain of Maryland for the supreme lodge.

Will Last Two Days
Bloodworth, in changing the date and place of the convention and taking steps to restrict attendance in order to keep the attendance of out-of-Baltimore delegates within the number authorized by the ODT, said the sessions probably will last for two days. He designated the Arundel hotel as headquarters for the convention.

K. of C. Officers Are Installed Here
Officers of Cumberland Council, No. 586, Knights of Columbus, were installed last night at ceremonies in the K. of C. home.

Recently re-elected the officers were installed by Joseph Cosgrove, district deputy, and Patrick O'Rourke, district warden, both of Frostburg.

Officers installed are Stanley R. Fretwell, grand knight; Edward A. Cosgrove, deputy grand knight; John Aaron, chancellor; Norman Childron, warden; John T. Creggan, financial secretary; Francis Lambert, recording secretary; J. B. Higgins, treasurer; Joseph Coleman, trustee, and James Browning, inside guard.

A spaghetti dinner followed the meeting. Seventy-five members attended.

Extinguish Blaze
East Side firemen were called to the home of James Messick, 508 Frederick street, last evening about 10 o'clock to extinguish a blaze in a bedroom of the home. The fire, which occurred after one of the children was playing with matches, damaged the bed and several pieces of furniture in the room.

JEEP IS CLASSIFIED AS TRUCK; TO SELL FOR WAR USE ONLY

The army jeep, a property-carrying vehicle now being manufactured for civilian sale, is classified as a truck and not as a passenger car and only civilians with a certificate to purchase a truck may apply for a jeep, according to W. F. Knell, ODT district manager, Baltimore.

Knell said that eligible purchasers must be contributing directly or indirectly in the prosecution of the war. Farmers are eligible. These restrictions, he said, do not apply to jeeps being sold through the surplus property board.

Persons seeking new trucks, principally for farming, Knell added, must fill out in duplicate and attach to their applications a new form, ODT 863-C, which calls for information regarding the type and extent of the operations.

The forms may be secured from the ODT district office, county farm agents, dealers and local OPA War Price and Rationing boards.

Clothing Collected In Drive Is Being Shipped Overseas

Clothing contributed by the American people will reach millions of war victims overseas before winter sets in, according to a report from Henry J. Kaiser, national chairman of the United Nations Clothing Collection, received yesterday by Mayor Thomas S. Post, local chairman of the recent clothing drive.

The report included a statement by President Truman that the local clothing collection committees throughout America "have rendered a service to world peace."

President Truman added that "by meeting and exceeding their goal of 150,000,000 pounds of clothing, the American people have accomplished the task assigned to them by Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The report pointed out that the first large shipments left America within thirty days after the campaign ended.

It added that clothing shipped or specifically scheduled for shipment will aid people in nine countries to the following extent: Belgium, 1,616,284 pounds; Czechoslovakia, 2,022,276 pounds; France, 3,355,815 pounds; Greece, 1,334,472 pounds; Italy, 340,045 pounds; the Philippines, 1,041,725 pounds; Yugoslavia, 4,423,647 pounds; China, 50,000 pounds; and Russia, 1,000,000 pounds.

Commenting on the report, Mayor Post said, "Every person who helped our community collect 75,000 pounds of clothing for overseas war relief should feel proud of having participated in this great cause. We are all glad to know that the clothing is now on its way overseas to relieve the suffering people."

EXAMS FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN WILL BE HELD AUGUST 29

An examination of applicants for positions on the Cumberland Police and Fire Departments will be conducted at 7 p. m. August 29 at Fort Hill high school by the Cumberland Civil Service Commission.

H. Clifford Spiker, board chairman, announced last night.

Applications can be obtained at the office of the city clerk in city hall beginning August 13. Deadline for submitting them is 5 p. m. August 23, Spiker said.

War veterans taking the examination must bring their honorable discharge papers with them on the night of the examinations, according to Spiker, who added that veterans are allowed five extra points on their score. A score of seventy is considered passing.

Medical examinations must be taken in connection with the applications. They will be given by Dr. Clay E. Durrett and Dr. H. W. Eliason, physicians to the civil service board.

Applicants who pass the test will be placed on an available list if they are not employed immediately.

Court Denies Petition Of Walter C. Imes

Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Caplan yesterday denied the petition of Walter C. Imes, Cumberland, for a writ of habeas corpus to gain his release from the Springfield State hospital.

Imes, 38, has been an inmate of the institution for three years, and attorneys testified yesterday that he refused to work or engage in any training. Judge Huster advised him that he would be granted his freedom when and if competent doctors approved his release. Imes declared he would like to be transferred to Sylvan Retreat.

John P. Vandegrift yesterday filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Bertie L. Vandegrift, through his counsel Harold E. Knight. They were married July 24, 1937, in Lonaconing, and lived together until June 1 of this year. They have three children, six, five and two years of age.

Tri State Soldiers Return to States

Among the latest servicemen to arrive in this country are four Cumberlanders and nine West Virginians.

Returning are Pfc. James R. Reckley, Pvt. John P. Walters, 113 East First street; Pfc. Glenn O. Devine, and Pfc. Lewis P. Fount, of 1011 Virginia avenue.

West Virginians landing in the United States are Pfc. James R. Reckley, Brandonville; Pfc. Scott R. Wiles, Terra Alta; Pfc. Riley H. Yonker, Terra Alta; T-4 John T. Davis, Piedmont; Pfc. Willard D. Lee, Terra Alta; T-4 Roland B. Stagers, Keyser; T-4 Walter M. Bowman, Keyser, and Pfc. William Reed, Parsons.

Household Exhibits Deadline Set For August 13

Judging at Cumberland Fair Will Begin Tuesday

Household exhibits for the annual Cumberland Fair starting August 13 will be received from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Monday, August 13, Miss Maude A. Bean, supervisor of exhibits, said yesterday.

On Sunday, August 12, exhibits will be received from 1 to 5 p. m. And while exhibitors are not encouraged to submit exhibits on Saturday, August 11, Miss Bean said that if they can find no convenient time, they may be turned in Saturday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Speaking of the food preservation exhibits, Miss Bean said that products may be submitted in either standard container of clear glass either in pint or quart sizes.

Jellies should be in half pint glasses with lids and with the paste fine put on top.

Judging Starts Tuesday
Anything canned during or since the 1944 fair may be entered, Miss Bean said.

In judging, nothing but jelly jars and pickles will be opened. Judging will start Tuesday, August 14, at 9 a. m. Three home economics judges have been named and people are invited to attend the judging and hear the comments of the judges.

Bean said yesterday that exhibit supervisors are very anxious to have some exhibits of plain sewing made in either 1944 or 1945.

All fancy articles, crocheting, weaving, and knitting should have been made in the last three years. Rugs and quilts completed within the last five years may be exhibited. Miss Bean emphasized that the exhibits are open to all, and not just to homemakers.

Original Ideas Sought
Supervisors of the exhibit said they were anxious to have a good children's exhibit this year and was stated that work in this department must be the work of children under 18 and must be entered in the name of the child. The originality in ideas in planning and designing as well as quality of work will be considered. Dolls' wardrobe must be shown on doll, consisting of inner and outer garments as well as headgear. All girls who are not 4-H Club members are eligible.

Exhibits for those under 10 years of age include aprons or dresses, cross stitch samplers, doll's wardrobe and handicraft.

Work of girls 10 to 18 years inclusive includes aprons, dresses, afternoon dresses, school dresses, nightgowns, pajamas, pillow case, buffet sets, scarves, towels, handicraft and crochet articles such as bags.

Four County Cases Appealed to Court

Four Allegheny and one Garrett county circuit court cases are among the fifty-five on the preliminary docket of the October term of the Maryland court of appeals.

One case is the appeal of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company from a jury's verdict several months ago, when William Morton, an employee, was granted compensation for injuries suffered while at work in a lumber mill. Morton had been denied compensation by the State Industrial Accident Commission at a hearing held, and an appeal was taken to Circuit Court.

Horace P. Whitworth is counsel for the paper company, and Edward J. Ryan and Estel C. Koller are attorneys for Morton.

Frostburg Council Appeals
The Mayor and City Council of Frostburg appealed an adverse decision of the judges in a suit against James Sleeman, West Sleeman and Roy Sleeman, following a dispute over a sidewalk built in Frostburg in front of the Sleeman property. The council contended the work was done without authority and not according to regulations.

William A. Gunter and D. Lindell Sloan are attorneys for the city, with Ryan representing the Sleemans.

Joseph A. Schriver, of this city, appealed a decision of the judge here in granting separate maintenance to his wife, Mrs. Lois G. Schriver. The case started last year in the local court and several hearings were held before the decision was made.

Gunter and Ryan are attorneys for Schriver, with Paul M. Fletcher representing the wife.

Divorce Basis Of Appeal
Another appeal involves payment of the indebtedness of three years and degrees granted more than ten years ago to Mrs. Mildred V. Borchert from Clarence A. Borchert. The appeal was taken by his attorneys, Sloan and F. Brook Whiting. Albert A. Doub, Jr., is counsel for Mrs. Borchert.

The Garrett county appeal was taken from a ruling in the Washington County Circuit Court, where the case had been transferred on a change of venue. G. Blaine Giesman sued the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, contending the board was indebted to his father, a former county treasurer. He appealed when the Court in Hagerstown ruled against him.

Charles L. Sloan and George D. Hickey are attorneys for Giesman, with E. Ray Jones and Robert H. McCauley appearing for the board of commissioners.

William D. Cavanaugh Is Seriously Ill

Word has been received here that the condition of William D. "Bill" Cavanaugh, son of Mrs. Abella Cavanaugh, 320 Bond street, who is a patient in the Veterans' hospital at Rutland Heights, Mass., is critical.

Cavanaugh, who is a graduate of LaSalle high school in the class of 1941, was taken to receive medical treatment before he was to receive a commission in the navy at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., where he trained under the V-12 program.
